

DIVING MEDICAL TECHNICIANS DIVING INDEPENDENT DUTY CORPSMAN HM 8493 / 8494

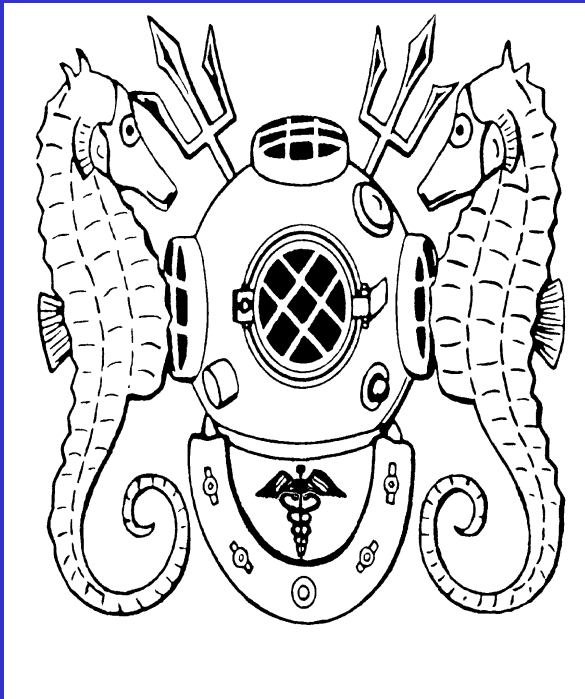

- # JOB DESCRIPTION
- Diving Medical Technicians and Diving Independent Duty Corpsman serve as the enlisted experts in Diving and Hyperbaric related maladies and their treatment.
  - Whether serving with a Diving Medical Officer or on Independent Duty, Diving Medical Technicians are an integral part of any Dive Team in the fleet.

DUTY OPPORTUNITIES

- Duty with Fleet Diving, Explosive Ordnance Disposal (EOD), Marine RECON, Sea Bee Underwater Construction Teams and Naval Special Warfare provide DMT's with worldwide duty assignments.

TRAINING

- Diving Medical Technicians attend 14 weeks of Second Class Diver training where they qualify in SCUBA Diving and Air Deep Sea Diving. They then proceed to 6 weeks of EMT and Advanced Diving Medicine to complete their training.

APPLICATION GUIDELINES

CANTRAC

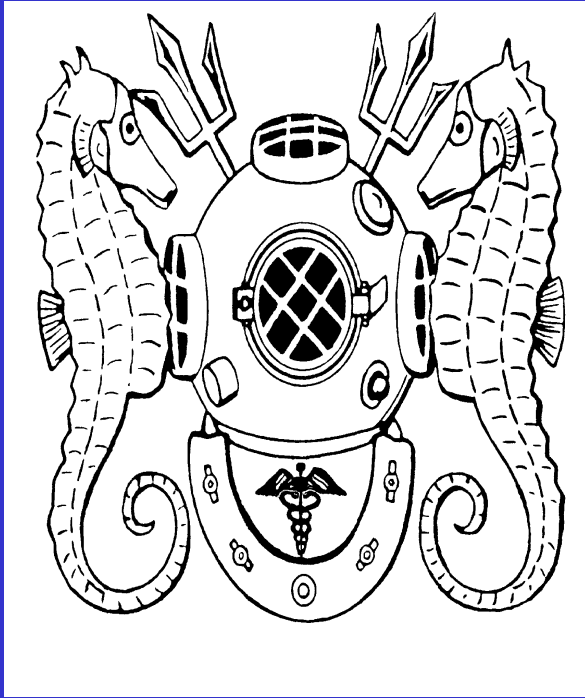

MILPERSMAN

Article 1220-100

Diving Physical IAW

MANMED CH. 15-66

ENTRANCE PHYSICAL TEST

- SWIM – 500 yards using side stroke or breast stroke in under 14 minutes
- 10 minute rest
- 55 sit-ups in 2 minutes
- 42 push-ups in 2 minutes
- 6 pull-ups no time limit
- 10 minute rest
- 1.5 mile run in under 12 minutes 45 seconds

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

- Naval Diving and Salvage Training Center
Website: wwwnt.cnet.navy.mil/ndstc
BUPERS Web Site - www.bupers.navy.mil, look under Community Managers, then select the Diver/EOD/SEAL Community. Click on the Divers Helmet for program information.

Contact HMCS (DSW/FMF/PJ) James Brawley,
BUMED Enlisted Technical Leader for Diving
Medical Technicians and LCPO of the Medical Department at the Naval Diving and Salvage
Training Center for more information.

James.T.Brawley@cnet.navy.mil (850) 235-5218 /
5215 DSN 436

HOO YAH DEEP SEA

!!